How risky is it?

The value of the Portfolio can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund’s returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk Rating

The Manager has rated the volatility of this Portfolio as Medium to High.

This rating is based on how much the Portfolio’s returns have changed from year to year. It doesn’t tell you how volatile the Portfolio will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Portfolio’s returns, see the Risk section of the Portfolio’s simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this Portfolio doesn’t have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.
How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how units of the Portfolio performed over the past 10 years. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the Portfolio’s returns.

The investment objectives of this Portfolio and the sub-advisor managing the Portfolio were changed on October 26, 2012. The sub-advisor managing the Portfolio was changed again on January 16, 2017. These changes could have materially affected performance had they been in effect throughout the entire performance measurement period.

Year-by-year returns

This chart shows how units of the Portfolio performed in each of the past 10 completed calendar years. The Portfolio dropped in value in 1 of the past 10 years. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the Portfolio has been in the past. It does not tell you how the Portfolio will perform in the future.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This table shows the best and worst returns for units of the Portfolio in a 3-month period over the past 10 years. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Average return

As at March 31, 2020, the annual compounded return of the Portfolio’s units was 10.1% over the past 10 years. If you had invested $1,000 in the Portfolio 10 years ago, your investment would now be worth $2,612.

Who is this fund for?

Consider this Portfolio if you:

- want a U.S. equity fund that focuses on investing in small to mid-capitalization companies to diversify your investment portfolio
- are comfortable with medium to high investment risk (i.e., you are willing to accept fluctuations in the market value of your investment)
- have a long-term investment horizon.

A word about tax

In general, you’ll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following table shows the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell units of the Portfolio. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among classes of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

   You pay no sales or redemption charges to buy, redeem or switch units of the Portfolio.
2. Fund expenses

You don’t pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the returns of the Portfolio.

As of December 31, 2019, the expenses of the Portfolio were 0.69% of its value. This equals $6.90 for every $1,000 invested.
