Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

This Fund is an alternative mutual fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for other types of mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate this Fund from other types of mutual funds include the: increased ability to use derivatives for hedging and non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value.

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series F units of the fund. The fees and expenses, including any commissions, can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

Instead of paying a sales charge on each transaction, you pay an annual fee to your representative's firm based on the value of your assets. You pay no sales charges when you buy Series F units of the fund.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the returns of this series of the fund.

The fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, fixed administration fee, certain operating expenses and trading costs. This series' annual management fee is 0.75% and its annual fixed administration fee is 0.1% of the series' value. Because this series is new, its operating expenses and trading costs are not yet available.

Short-term trading fee	0% to 2% of the amount that you redeem or switch if you buy or switch and then redeem or switch units of the fund within 30 days of purchasing or switching them. This penalty will be paid directly to the fund.
Switch fee	You and your representative can negotiate this fee. Currently the fee is up to 2% of the amount you switch.
Series F fees	Series F units are for investors who are enrolled in a flat fee account or their representative's firm sponsored wrap program. You can only buy Series F units through your representative if their firm has entered into an F Series Agreement with BMO Investments Inc. and only with the prior approval of BMO Investments Inc.
